The palace is so large that a full-time restoration squad is continuously repainting and repairing. 24 emperors of the Ming and Qing dynasties lived and ruled from the Forbidden City.
- 11:15      Departure, drive to the Summer Palace. We will walk in the Hutongs enroute.
- A hutong is a street or alley bounded on both sides by old buildings in courtyard compounds. In the hutongs, you'll see the way of life of "common" Beijingers. It contrasts greatly with the imperial culture of places like the Forbidden City.
- 12:30      We will have time for a picnic at the palace. Please prepare in advance.
- Visit Summer Palace. Despite its name, the Summer Palace is not a palace in the sense of the Forbidden City but an imperial park criss-crossed by pathways and nestled against lovely Kunming Lake. The Qing court spent much of the year here in the empire's final decades.
